

Notice to All Contributors

We are currently in discussion with a major publisher regarding publication of the 'ATE/Plessey/GPT/Marconi' story.

Details are yet to be finalised but the proposal is to include our story as a major part of a glossy heritage publication encompassing the major industries based on Merseyside over the last 40-50 years.

In order to consider the stories and images that will be used, we need everyone who has provided material so far to update their contribution (where applicable) and provide additional information as described below.

- Updates

Can you update what you have already provided with anything that improves or expands the accuracy or detail in your story, or indeed add any completely new material?

- Dates

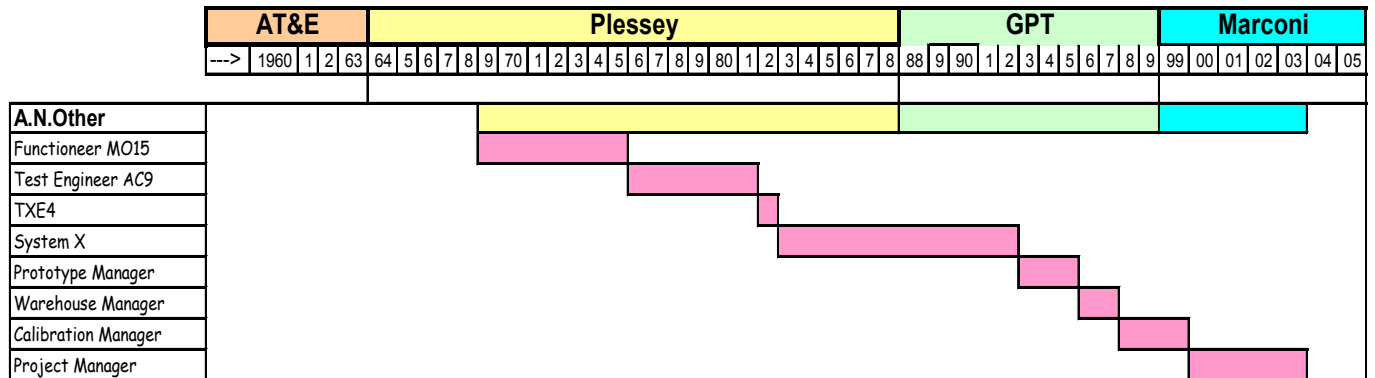

If not already included can you add dates even if it's just the approximate year?

- Images

Are there any images in the galleries which you feel were taken at or around the time your contribution describes?

- Career Span

Can you briefly summarise your career span? An example is shown below including approximate dates of when each of the various Companies were in control.

- Authorisation

Are you happy for your story to be published?

The Publisher will incur all costs for publication and distribution and will also set the purchase price. The organisers of 'Plessey At The Edge' will not make personal profit from this venture.

Please confirm, via e-mail if possible, that you agree the material you have provided can be published.
